

TODAY'S PRIMARIES.

Today's election promises to be the hottest held in this city for many years.

There are several candidates for each office, and the usual bitterness of spirit that comes when a large number of aspirants are in the field, is likely to be engendered.

The APPEAL is willing to support any man of sense and a good party record, for a place but reserves the right to point out anyone whose name would be a source of weakness instead of strength.

Mr. Edward Parkinson, publisher of the Tribune, is a candidate for Legislative honors.

It has not been the intention of the APPEAL to interfere with the young gentleman's political ambition at the primaries, but since he has showed his disregard of the Statutes of the State and of the ordinary rules of common sense, by writing a threatening letter to this office, the APPEAL is compelled to take notice of the challenge so ill-advisedly flung under its nose.

It appears to us that a man who is ignorant of the laws already on the statute books is not a particularly desirable person to engage in the digestion of new laws. In fact those already in force seem more than he can abide by.

Some years ago there was an episode in county politics which is still fresh in the memories of many voters, and that is when the Dolly Vardens captured the county government, ran the county in debt and largely increased the rate of taxation.

They were aided and abetted in this conspiracy against the Republican party and economical government, by the Nevada Tribune, which openly forsook its party principles, and espoused the cause of the Mugwump ticket.

While the proprietor of that paper had the right to do as he pleased with his own property, the expediency of his asking for office at the hands of the same party he betrayed is not noticeable to good Republicans of average intelligence.

In thus alluding to Mr. Parkinson's candidacy we have steadily endeavored to take the advice of his letter, to tell the truth and avoid dirt.

We must by all means have a winning ticket this year.

HON. HORACE F. BARTINE.

One of the gratifying results of the recent congressional convention has been the unanimous re-nomination of this distinguished gentleman, by the Republicans of Nevada. It is rare, indeed, that a new member has been so eminently successful in commanding the confidence of his associates as Nevada's Representative. Attentive to his duties, rarely absent from his seat, courteous and urbane in his manners, vigilant in all matters affecting his constituents, possessing a fund of information on the all-absorbing silver question, and bold and determined in his efforts to secure justice in that direction, he has reflected pride on the State he so ably represents, and has proven himself "the right man in the right place."

His nomination by acclamation, is a just tribute to his worth, and of inestimable advantage to the great silver interests of the country, which hopes and demands a largely increased majority to this faithful public servant. Already a great and substantial victory has been won, but the final battle for the free and unlimited coinage of silver is yet to be fought, and it is of the highest importance that those who have been prominent and efficient in obtaining results already accomplished, should be sustained and retained in public life until the great final result is secured. Therefore, all silver men can appreciate the advantage, and the necessity, of Mr. Bartine's election.—Washington, D. C., National View.
